THE COINAGE OF DOLLARS TO STOP

Congress Asked to Give the Ecorotary of the Tremant the Power to Buy Bullion as He May Deem Proper.

Washington, Dac 1—The general belief that Secretary Windom in his forthcoming annual report would recommend a strictly new departure in the policy of the government in relation to the coinage of aliver certainly has substantial foundation Secretary Windom, has carefully worked out a plan of his own with the object of meeting the reasonable expectations of the aliver men without encountering well grounded objections from the orthody a school of finance. He is to far satisfied that he has accomplished these objects that he will recommend his plan to the alivering of congress in he amount report. This report, it is announced will not accompany the president as message as 1-au, but will be given to the public one day later that is, Wednesday. It is sumised explanation for the delay is. First that the president does not wish to also each of the coincident of the coincident of the coincident for the delay is. First that the president does not wish to also a few with the public on all willing to take the entire responsibility for the lean and will only britisy refer to it in his message and second, that Windom is not only willing to take the entire responsibility for his plan but distinctly prefer to the only willing to take the entire responsibility for his plan but distinctly prefer to the new the second of wide public attention with the presidents in a sage. The second congress.

The secret of the secretary's policy has been tary of the tree are reported not to the presidual, but directly to congress.

The secret of the secretary's policy has been profit well kept in Washington but it could not be worked out without frequent consultation with representatives of the silver producing interests on the jone hand and with some of the leading bankers and Buanciars of the country on it of other, So many rersons know the general outlines of the plan that they can be made public in the School star without casting any suspicion upon the custoflans of Windom's report of the government printing office.

In The Obscowies without leasting any suspicion upon the custoflans of Windom's report it the government printing office.

The contrail den of the secre any's plan 1s the creation of an issue of treasury notes not legal tender, based upon silver but lon at the market price at the date of issue. He recommends the stoppage of the presented lange of silver and the removal of the limit on the monthly purchase of buillion. Upon the builten as purchased he asks congress to give him power to issue the treasury notes about dosesthed these notes to be redeemable upon presentation, either, in silver builtion at the ruiting price whether that be more or less than the price on the day of issue or in gold coin at pur at the option of the government. This option is intended to guard against combinations to depress the price of silvey in the increase of speculators, and to prevent combinations to run up the price of builtion and is lead from the treasury. The plan provides that the secretary may suspend the purchase of builtion whenever in his idegment the public interest is ordangered by a speculating combination. The report will inake no recommendation either us to the autional bink legal funder or silver certificate currency. The new issue a morantic ded to take the place of cline but to jetreulase enduality and in the currency without introducing in place of the currency without introducing an element of degradation.

exchange in place of the currency without intro-ducing an element of degradator. The secretary apparently sees to danger in the circulation side by side of two silver certificates of unequal lutra by side of two silver certificates of unequal latina slovature, not any scrous danger of a disturbance of the scheme by a fluctuation of alliver in the market that a severation and the parsons he has consulted that he hepes to has solved the problem of a currency based on two metals and that he dreams of a future invernational coinage union upon the lines of his plan. It is said that the plan has been received with mages ution the culton than critician ty persons advised of it is his mering violent or position from any quarter it is present form. THE ATTACK ON LAUGHTON.

THE ATTACK ON LAUGHTON.

He Explains That He Did His Beat in the Appointment of the Sanate Committees. This sensation of the week has been the at tack of the Seatile Post Intelligence: on Licentenan Governor Laughton about the appointment of the standing committees of the senset. The pape charged that the licentenant governor had done some underhand work in the designation of the committees, particularly in the committee on cor pore ions, of which Owings, of Thurston county received the charmanship II; was further charged that I ampton had promised to place octain senators on certain committees to put a quie us on a move that was on foot some time and to depire him of the power of appointing committees, but when he found himself out of dea gur he showed his ingratitude by Isaling to keep his word. The paper added that a well defined move was on foot to abolish the office of liquiten ant governor. This was intended as a phinishmen for Laughton. I feutomant deverner Laughton was seen about the charges, but declined to make any statement in answer. He said he expected to get a bill from the Post Intelligencer for advertising him. His friends say the stack was provoked by the failure of King county to get the charmanship of the committee on corporations which it wanted at not getting it. Lughton's friends say the struck was provoked by the failure of the Ring, county delegation do not justify the attack and that kinnear went to the liquitenant covernor, even if t did thie definite shape, would be trailless. Number of men employed in industrial enterprises in city, 550. Number of men engaged in placer and quartz mining in the county, 2000. Number of persons engaged in fruit growing and agricultural pur uits in the county, 2200.

Number of men employed in lumber business in twenty sawmills tributary to city, 450.

Number of churches in Grant's Pass with enrolle! ongregations ranging from 100 to 300 persons each, 6. Number of acres of Government land in Josephine county open to entry, 145,000.

Number of acres of railroad lands in same county at prices ranging from $2.50 to $20 per acre, 800,000.

Value of exports for nine months ending September 20. 1880, and consisting of sash, doors, blinds, manufactured woodwork, lumber, live stock, grain, hay, gold, marble, copper, ochres, limestone, vegetables, peaches, pears, plums, apricots, almond nuts, walnuts, mclons, apples, etc., $1,846,324.

Value of imports during same period, consisting of general merchandise, farming, milling and mining machinery, etc., $960,218.

Expended for labor in industrial enterprises in city and tributary country during same period, $536,000. Number of feet of ten-foot sidewalks laid and in course of construction in city in same period, 17,000!

This is the record of a Southern Oregon town that contained but a single dwelling prior to the extension of the Oregon & California railroad in 1883.

Grant's Pass is situated on the north bank of the Rogue River, in the heart of the famous valley of that name, and is surrounded by a vast country, containing fourteen varieties of valuable woods, besides gold, silver, copper, iron, chrome, coal, limestone, marble, etc., all of which must find a market at the great manufacturing center of Southern Oregon-Grant's FESS.

Just think of a 50,000 horsepower flowing by the very door of the town, and the county coming with the most valuable raw materia's on the Pacific Coast. How lorg do you suppose it will be before Eastern capital w.l find its way into this new Eldorado?

The Livantages and commercial possibilities of Grant's Pass have already been observed by such shrewd financiers as Mesers. Corbett and Failing, who start a national bank there on the first of January with a capital of $50,000. These gentlemen, together with J. C. Carson and C. H. Lewis, two of Portland's most successful business men, are also interested largely in the $150 000 sash and door factory of Crant's Pass.

Property in Grantit Pass has increased 100 per cent since May 31, 1889, and it is still 500 per cent lower than any town of like population-in Oregon or Washington. Just think of buying business property, al. level, cleared, sidewalked, on the principal business streets and within 300 feet of a $30,000 brick opera house for TEN DOLLARS PER FRONT FOOT.

Beausi'ul residence lots 50x100 feet each, all cleared, level, stirounded by handsome dwellings, and within six blocks of the heart of the city, for FIFTY DOL-LARS EACH, Whole blocks, 200x220, with 20fdot al cy, in same vicinity, at prices ranging from $200 to $500 per block. These prices will prevail for a few days only. All property owned by the townsite company will be advanced 100 per cent on January 1, 1890.

Five Per Cent Per Month.

Since May 31st 1889, I have sold $42,000 worth of Grant's Pass property to the parties whose names are herewith published, and I am now prepared to take back every dollar's worth of it at an advance of FIVE PER CENT PER MONTE from the date of purchase. I will do the same thing on future purchases, and will give a written guarantee of 50 per cent per annum on sums invested for the next five years. Grant's Pass is going to be a second Spokane Falls, just as sure as fate, and the investor a present prices will have cause to applaud his judgment five years hence. Tit e perfect. Terms: One half cash, balance in one year at ten per cent.
